

Conference Name: 20th AsiaTEFL, 68th TEFLIN, and 5th iNELTAL Conference

Date: July 2022

Presenter: Louise Luo

The 2022 joint conference of the 20th AsiaTEFL, 68th TEFLIN, and 5th iNELTAL was hosted by Universitas Negeri Malang, Indonesia, under the theme “Hindsight, Insight, and Foresight in ELT in Multilingual Asia.” This hybrid conference provided a platform for ELT and English language researchers, policymakers, and practitioners to share and discuss research and conceptual ideas.

My presentation, titled “Enabling Student Feedback Uptake: Review of Research,” focused on the emergent construct of feedback literacy, emphasizing the active role of students in the feedback process. I reviewed existing literature on feedback literacy, aiming to inspire teaching practitioners to adopt innovative feedback practices.

The conference featured a diverse range of presentations, including a study on the partnership between teacher feedback literacy and student feedback literacy, highlighting mismatched understandings between the two groups. Another notable presentation traced the development of feedback literacy over the past decade.

This conference was an enriching experience, sparking my interest in various research areas and providing valuable insights for my future endeavors.
